Observations stable manager, riders and drivers:

Jepe 537 is an alert, investigative stallion who can be a little cheeky from time to time. He has honest and easy stable manners, is very cooperative but has a keen eye for his surroundings. Jepe 537 is very forward-coming in the work, giving his rider and driver a good feeling, already showing that the work comes easy to him, especially considering his young age.

Central Examination:

Jepe 537 completed the Central Examination at the age of four.

Training report:

Walk: Jepe 537 has an active, regular walk that should however be a bit more ground-covering, but he moves with very good use of the body.

Trot:

The stallion moves in a light-footed, regular trot with very good bend in the hind leg. Jepe 537 makes a great front, places his hind leg actively under the body, is good at transitions and places the foreleg well forward. He also shows ample balance and a long moment of suspension.

Canter: Jepe 537 moves in an uphill canter with very good strides and technique. For his age he shows great capacity for transitions and is good at closing back up again.

Riding horse aptitude:

Jepe 537 has lots of forward go with a very keen attitude to work, and he likes to make his presence felt. The stallion shows a fine posture with three good basic gaits, with the very good trot and canter particularly catching the eye. Jepe 537 offers the rider so much to work with and transitions come very easy to him in all three paces.

In-harness aptitude:

In front of the carriage the stallion demonstrates lots of front and forward go. Jepe 537 has a lot of aptitude for driving- as well as showdriving work, and his active, carrying hind leg and ample forward reach in the foreleg positively stand out. The stallion displays very good use of the body, balance and a long moment of suspension with the in-harness work.

Test results riding test:

Conclusions Central Examination:

Jeppe 537 has successfully completed his Central Examination. He is very talented for riding horse as well as for driving- and showdriving work. He is always keen to work and handles the work with ease. For his age he already commands very good posture and balance. In all disciplines his good trot and use of the body catch the eye, in driven work he shows lots of front as well as fine use of the hind leg.

Dam line:

Jeppé 537 is a son of 13-year-old Hieke van de Peester Hoeve Star AA (Pier 448). This large-framed and well-kept mare has brought eight foals, with Jeppé 537 being one of her three Star offspring. Hieke has satisfactory noble expression of the head with a light head-neck connection and a long, vertical neck. Her shoulder is long and somewhat steep, her topline and loin section are strong. Hieke's croup has satisfactory length but is pretty sloping. The mare has a horizontal build with correct stance of legwork and generous size of feet. The mare's regularity in the walk is satisfactory but the walk would benefit from a bit more power, although it shows satisfactory scope. The trot is roomy, powerful and with a long moment of suspension and a hind leg that shows lots of bend.

Final conclusion:

Jeppé 537 is a longlined, all-round stallion. He has very good work ethos by nature, lots of balance and shows fine use of the body.

Advice for use:

Jeppé 537 can be used for mares with correct stance of legwork and satisfactory scope in the walk. He is expected to add a lot of technique in trot and canter. The stallion is also expected to improve use of the body and pass on longlined, uphill conformation.
