Performance Test:

Gosse 526 was a 3-year-old stallion when he completed the Central Examination.

Trainingsrapport:

Walk: Gosse 526 has a walk that is relaxed, roomy and regular, with good use of the body.

Trot: In trot the stallion shows lots of balance, suppleness and elevation, moving with good bend and alacrity from the hind leg. Transitions come easy to Gosse 526 and throughout the transitions he keeps moving with a carrying hind leg. He demonstrates lots of scope in the use of the foreleg.

Canter: Gosse 526 canters with good-quality strides, in an uphill outline and good use of the body.

Riding horse aptitude:

In ridden work Gosse 526 is easy to ride and responds well to training. He has a cooperative character. When relaxed he demonstrates a good, rhythmic walk with good looseness. The trot is ground-covering with good use of the body and reflexes are satisfactory. In trot Gosse 526 is able to extend the pace from the hind leg with good reach in front of the foreleg. In canter he moves with uphill strides and good use of the body. Gosse 526 gives his riders a relaxed feeling, is cooperative and keeps a constant contact on the bit. He reacts well to the aids.

In-harness aptitude:

With the in-harness work Gosse 526 displays the same qualities as he does under saddle. In front of the carriage the stallion makes a lot of front and moves with an active and quick hind leg. Gosse 526 has good leg technique when extending within the pace. In the in-harness work the stallion sometimes struggles a bit with the contact and here he should respond a little more to training. As a showdriving horse he has a lot of knee action, with uphill body posture, lots of front with good carrying capacity from the hind leg.

Findings Performance Test:

Gosse 526 is a stallion with plenty of aptitude, both under saddle as well as for the in-harness disciplines. The stallion moves with an uphill posture and good leg technique, both in the hind leg and in the foreleg. The canter is spacious and uphill and the stallion has good suppleness.

Dam report:

General: The 15-year-old Star Preferent mare Rinske L. (height at withers 1.62 m) is in good condition and is a fertile broodmare (pregnant with her 12th foal). She is a mare with a lot of breed expression, an expressive, slightly longish face and large eyes. She has lavish manes, a long forelock and thick socks. Rinske is an alert-looking mare with a friendly disposition. She has vertical neck conformation with satisfactory length. She proves to have satisfactory sustainability in topline and legwork, which has the correct stance and satisfactory dry quality. The mare has generously-sized feet. Her walk has rhythm and scope. Her trot is regular with good bend in the hock and strong impulsion. She should bring the hind leg a bit further under the body and forward reach of the foreleg is satisfactory. In trot Rinske demonstrates satisfactory suppleness and use of the body.

Dam line: Gosse 526's dam is Star Preferent with six Star offspring and with Gosse 526 now also has a son who is an approved stud stallion. One son is Sport Elite, one son has earned the AA predicate. On the basis of Gosse 526's scores in the Central Examination Rinske L. has also obtained the Performance predicate. Her full sister is Crown Preferent with the AA predicate. Gosse 526's granddam is a Star Preferent mare whose sire is Leffert 306. She has three Star offspring and a Crown mare with the AA predicate. This Amarin became Preferent on the basis of her first five offspring. His 3rd dam is a Model mare by Bendert 281 and next is Klazina Star Preferent Performance (Hearke 254) who gave five offspring, all of them mares, with three of them Model (two also Preferent) and the other two became Star Preferent. Klazina is the granddam of Hinne 427 (Tsjerk 328). Gosse 526 stems from the Vesta line of pedigree 25.

Final conclusion: :

Gosse 526 is a modern, longlined stallion with a great front. He has a correct, strong topline, a slightly sloping croup with a long hind leg. The stallion possesses three good basic gaits in which he demonstrates good use of the body and suppleness. The trot is uphill with a sharp and well-engaged hind leg. The canter is spacious with uphill strides. In the course of the Central Examination Gosse 526 has gained in strength and demonstrated to have great aptitude for riding horse and in-harness horse. On the basis of the above data the stallion Gerben A.L. Star is registered in the Studbook for stallions under the name of Gosse 526.

Advice:

Gosse 526 is expected to improve use of the hind leg. He is best paired to mares with correct croup conformation and without a small-angled hind leg.
